APPLICATION REQUIREMENTS

Prospective students, whether MK, international, public, private or home educated, may apply using the online application at <http://www.jbu.edu/academics/honors>. Scores of 28 ACT/1340 SAT serve as a general guideline to apply.

GRADUATION

Honors students are not required to take any "extra" courses to be in honors, for honors classes satisfy JBU's core requirements. Students should take about 1 honors course per semester to complete the lower-division requirements. Students may choose from approximately twenty honors sections of core courses to fulfill the lower-division honor requirements.

Nine lower-division hours must be completed by the end of a student's sophomore year while maintaining a cumulative GPA of 3.5, or a 3.75 in honors courses. To graduate, honor students must complete 21 hours of honors courses and maintain a 3.5 GPA.

HONORS STUDENTS GRADUATE

PRESTIGIOUS SCHOLARSHIPS

In 2014 one of our honors students (Sarah Hubbard) received a Fulbright to teach in Turkey 2014-2015. JBU honors students have received the Gilman Scholarship (Jewel Gilbert, 2014) and earned the DAAD RISE Scholarship and been finalists for the Goldwater Scholarship and the Truman Scholarship. One of our 2017 graduates earned a National Science Foundation scholarship to study Engineering at UT Austin. Students continue to participate in a number of other competitions, including the Rhodes, Mitchell, Udall, American Graduate Fellowships and the Fulbright.

STUDY ABROAD

Honors students are encouraged to attend the Scholars' Semester at Oxford University (UK), a program for which only honors students are eligible. Other study-abroad options include study in Uganda, Spain, Russia, Middle East, including an archaeological dig site in Jordan, Australia, and Ireland.

COLLOQUIA

Experiential learning is taken to a whole new level as honors students have the opportunity to explore interesting topics and to travel. Themes of past have included Martin Luther King, Frank Lloyd Wright, Blues and Jazz, the classes Cherokee Trail, slave narratives and foreign films.

SPECIAL OPPORTUNITIES

Each year honors students are chosen to serve as mentors in the course entitled Gateway Seminar for Christian Scholarship. In this course honor students work one-on-one with JBU faculty.
