3. Using the Academic Planning module on Eaglenet, set up your schedule and have your advisor approve your courses. PLAN & SCHEDULE. Courses must be approved before you can officially register.
4. Register online during your assigned time period using the Academic Planning Module on Eaglenet.

Things to Remember

- Be sure that your account is NOT on hold from any departments (Student Accounts, Health Services, Student Development, etc.) before your registration time. These holds will block your account and will delay your registration until they are cleared.
- The Fall 2020 schedule (http://www.jbu.edu/academics/CourseSchedules/) will be available on EagleNET March 2 and will be updated regularly.
- Advising begins Monday, March 9, but you cannot register until your registration period allows you to access the system online. The hours you are taking Spring 2020 do not impact your time window. It is the total number of completed hours you have as of March 20 and not at the end of this semester.
- You must complete the online Pre-Registration through EagleNET before you can register for classes.
- You must have permission (via an email to the Registrar’s Office) from the instructor of the course to take a course without having taken pre-requisites. Your advisor CANNOT give this permission.
- Carefully choose the proper sections of your classes.
- Notice any classes which have Labs. You must register for both the lecture and the lab.
- If you want to take an online class, this must be scheduled in the Undergraduate 2020 Fall term (NOT the online term) and you will waitlist yourself for the course (that will be your only option) because fully online students have first chance to register.
